This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE LIBRARY of the Royal Institute of British Architects chiefly consists of books presented by the authors and others; but many standard works of reference have been purchased from time to time in order to render its contents more generally useful.

With the view of improving and increasing the collection, the Council forwarded to the Members in 1861, a list of such works, not in the Library, as were considered essential to its completeness; and the result has been the addition, as donations, of a large number of valuable books. The Catalogue annexed does not, however, contain the titles of many important publications enumerated in that list; works for which the new cases in the Library have been specially rendered capable of affording ample accommodation.

Catalogues of the Library were printed in 1838, and again in 1846. The one now issued contains all the publications presented and purchased up to the end of June 1864. It was prepared from the interleaved copy in daily use in the Library, in which the additions since 1846 have been periodically inserted. When the Rooms of the Institute were opened in the present locality in 1859, the contents of the cases were investigated, volume by volume, and checked by comparison with the Catalogue. At the same time, a reference to each work was made therein under the specific subject or subjects set forth in the title page. As this work has been effected by several hands, some want of uniformity may be observable; a defect which has been greatly remedied by a manuscript prepared for the printer having been revised as carefully as possible, as well as the proof sheets. It was deemed advisable to abridge the titles, preserving at the same time, sufficient to identify the work in request. The Catalogue as now issued is therefore a double one, combining in the same list, references to the books under the name of the author, and also to the books under the subject matter. It must not, however, be placed in comparison with works prepared by a professional staff acting under a remunerated supervision, as it is the labour of love of those whose time is otherwise much occupied; in its present form it is submitted for the candid criticism of the members, with the hope that the ready reference which it permits to the books, may lead the younger members to bestow more time to the valuable contents of the Library. For further facility of reference, in addition to this classification, the volumes have, to a certain extent, been arranged in the cases according to subjects.

The titles of nearly all, if not all, of the Papers read at the Ordinary Meetings of the Institute, have been inserted, and to designate them, the letters SP (Sessional Papers), have been appended to each entry. Some of them are further distinguished by the letters MS, to mark those Papers which have not been printed by the Institute, but of which the original manuscripts remain in the collection. Some of these Papers, with others read at the time the Institute did not print its Transactions, will be seen in the Journals of the period, as noted by the press mark in the Catalogue in use in the Library. The Council regrets that the collection of manuscripts is not complete, but it still trusts to recover some of those which are wanting. In many instances, the Illustrations prepared for those Papers remain in the possession of the Institute.

To obviate difficulty in consulting the Catalogue for works published by, or under the auspices of, Societies, it should be borne in mind that the Institutions in London have been arranged alphabetically by their title, to prevent too frequent recurrence of the heading London. But all other Societies have been placed under the name of the place in which they are established; the foreign Societies having a cross reference from their titles to their localities. The heading London includes the whole of the Metropolis.

An Addendum has been printed containing the donations up to the close of the Session in June 1865, together with that of a large number of works presented by the Committee of the Ecclesiological Society. This Addendum also includes a few corrections, which, with the best attention, have escaped observation; as well as the insertion of some works omitted in their proper places, noticed only during the revision of the later sheets.

The Librarian is engaged on the manuscript for a corresponding volume, to contain a list of the important collection of Original Drawings, Prints, Photographs, Medals, Busts, Casts, Marbles, Stones, etc. belonging to the Institute; these at present are only known to the Members by the lists printed with the annual Reports.

JOHN P. SEDDON, CHAS. FORSTER HAYWARD, } Honorary Secretaries.

October, 1865.

 The Library is open to Members from ten to five daily, between the 20th of October and the 31st of August (excepting the Easter and Christmas weeks), and on the evenings of Monday, Thursday, and Friday, from seven to ten, during the same period.
